

What are agency fee points ?

By chance, I was reflecting on my past self, and I noticed the term "non-life insurance agency commission points."

I wonder if they still exist now...?

I've heard directly that they certainly existed at the level of my qualifications at the time...

but it's a term that only those in the relevant departments would understand, and well...it has nothing to do with my current or future self,

so I feel embarrassed to bring it up now...

Therefore, I'll consider it not a great work and put it in the Shiro-hen category.

(Note)

I'm no longer a qualifications fanatic.
