

Suddenly, elegant

Because of her small mouth

= Suddenly, I'm called refined. =

I'm often told I'm a "refined person" rather than before.

Perhaps it's because of my "small mouth."

My small mouth makes me look like the woman in that "If you want to be a butt" picture.

And speaking of which, back when I wasn't so famous yet...

I was once spoken to in a manner that sounded like it was directed at a young lady.

① "Madam, your outfit..." - a staff member spoke to me because it was see-through.

② "Where did you buy that outfit?" - a woman in her 40s.

Speaking of which, there was an anime called "My name is Reiko Shiratori."

=I want to be called by my English proper name. =

The opposite of what's written on my passport.

I'm working on my project in parallel.

I've finished creating the documents related to USW society.

① USW Practical Site

Not a financial institution, no interest, no investment.

Just extremely secure storage.

Making it impossible to enter other people's spaces.

For example, biometric authentication + one-time password, etc.

Individually received, individually allocated storage space (folder) at the government central.

Money DBMS to be placed at the government central.

This is where my unique approach comes in.

While I can't bring it down to a negative amount, I also can't let it remain at an extreme level, so I'll force them to use it (bring it out, etc.) within the month.

This is also called

"kindness that doesn't make them hesitate."

=Working in parallel with creative activities=

① Building the process leading up to that point, such as an app.

② Creating music.
